

When the leader of Israel left the plain and climbed the mountain side, he saw the tent-covered country, with its multitudes, grow faint, indistinct and finally disappear, and as he reached the summit of the mount the cloud of Gods glory descended upon and enveloped him. He was there forty days, we read, and in that period saw God, had the Ten Commandments given him, and in addition had revealed the exact pattern of the Tabernacle which was to be constructed and erected in the plain for the spiritual good of the people.
